Our Practice Areas

Sixteen practice areas, one team. Whatever the mandate, the people who advise you are the people who appear for you.

BOLD · DEPENDABLE · PRAGMATIC · RESILIENT

A Dispute Resolution

Every business or organisation faces potential conflicts of varying sizes, scopes and complexities. Disputes can sap significant resources and may result in reputational risks. Avoiding disputes is as strategically important as resolving them. Conflict resolution requires careful consideration of the best means of resolution, and must factor in many issues, including time and costs.

We work with clients to resolve disputes, and advise on risk avoidance and mitigation strategies. We are committed to resolving disputes as efficiently as possible, offering advice that is strategic and commercially sound. We strive to understand our clients' businesses and offer legal solutions tailored to meet their commercial needs. We also explore alternative methods of dispute resolution as a means of achieving efficient outcomes. We partner with our clients to find the most appropriate solutions in the circumstances, including diplomatic, adversarial and non-adversarial methods.

We have represented local and international clients in complex banking litigation, complex commercial disputes, constitutional law matters, environmental & land law litigation, employment & labour disputes, family matters, public procurement and tax disputes. Our lawyers have represented a full spectrum of clients in sectors such as banking & financial services, professional services, technology, manufacturing, construction, public sector and energy.

B Employment & Labour

Employees are at the heart of any business and the key to its success. Ensuring compliance and effective management of labour-related issues in a highly regulated and complex environment is critically important for your business, your people and your reputation.

Our team provides a commercially minded and personable approach to managing employment and labour issues. We advise on all employment law-related matters, covering individual and collective employment law, best employment practice, employee benefits, and occupational health and safety law. We have acted on contentious matters relating to termination & dismissal, redundancy and discrimination, and on non-contentious matters including advisory on employment contracts and employment policies, review of Human Resource (HR) manuals & policies, and termination on account of redundancy and/or incapacity.

C Corporate-Commercial Transactions

Our Corporate-Commercial team offers clients exceptional service, providing them with sophisticated, innovative, practical and commercially sound advice on all aspects of structuring, negotiating, documenting and implementing local and cross-border deals and private equity transactions, and managing legal risk.

We have been involved in mergers, acquisitions, takeovers and many diverse commercial transactions. Our lawyers have given strategic and practical advice on complex mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures and the drafting, reviewing and negotiating of commercial contracts. We have been actively involved in advising clients in sectors such as manufacturing, real estate & construction, energy, and banking and financial services.

D Conveyancing & Real Estate

Property is the world's largest asset class. Real estate deals are often complex and structured, with many having cross-border implications or requiring sophisticated financing arrangements. With a passion for property and exceptional industry knowledge, we offer practical, insightful advice within quick turnaround times.

We take pride in providing strategic and practical advice to local and international clients on the acquisition and disposal of land, conveyancing, commercial & residential development, leases, licences, project financing, structuring of complex infrastructure projects, joint ventures and PPPs. We undertake detailed due diligence on land transactions, thus protecting our clients against potential land fraud.

E Technology, Software, AI & eCommerce

Our Technology, Software, AI and eCommerce practice advises start-ups, established enterprises and multinational technology companies navigating Kenya's digital economy. We handle software licensing and development agreements, SaaS and cloud contracts, data protection compliance under the Data Protection Act, 2019, cybersecurity matters under the Computer Misuse and Cybercrimes Act, 2018, intellectual property protection, and technology procurement and outsourcing. We also advise on the legal and regulatory implications of AI adoption, including data governance, algorithmic accountability and liability allocation.

For eCommerce clients, we support online retailers, marketplaces and fintech companies with regulatory licensing, consumer protection, digital payments and mobile money regulation, platform governance, and dispute resolution. Drawing on close familiarity with regulators including the Communications Authority of Kenya, the Office of the Data Protection Commissioner and the Central Bank of Kenya, we deliver pragmatic counsel that helps clients innovate while managing legal risk.

F Insolvency & Restructuring

The global financial crisis saw an increase in the number of companies experiencing financial distress, with laws rapidly evolving over the last decade to devise ways of helping businesses protect value during tough times.

Poor market conditions and recessions, delayed payments, industrial strike action, increased operational costs, political uncertainty and regulatory issues can push businesses into serious debt.

Our team has advised on restructuring processes. The firm advises on both contentious and non-contentious aspects of insolvency law and related regulatory work. In so doing, our team assists businesses to operate through these hard climates by providing practical and commercial specialist support.

G Banking, Finance & Securities

The banking and finance sector is a driving force of every economy, providing the means to business expansion and investor growth. It is also an area of complex laws and regulations, and of refreshed thinking following the global financial crisis of 2008. We focus on all aspects of general bank and institutional debt finance.

Due to our ongoing investments in skilled personnel and technology, we manage multiple financing transactions at any given time. Investing in document management, document automation, electronic know-how and logistical support has enabled us to allocate sufficient resources at the right level and complete transactions on time and within budget.

We have represented clients in both contentious and non-contentious matters. Our team has vast expertise advising on asset finance, structuring and drafting, lending and security documentation for corporate and retail lending, including cross-border and syndicated loans, structured finance, SME financing and trade finance. We have equally been involved in complex banking disputes, debt recovery and asset tracing.

H Arbitration

The rigours and delays of court processes have significantly promoted the need for alternative methods of dispute resolution such as arbitration. The benefits of arbitration are more profound in complex commercial transactions, where time, choice of law, venue of dispute resolution and confidentiality are self-regulated by the parties.

Our lawyers have represented clients in various complex arbitration matters, locally and internationally, in areas such as real estate, construction, tax, banking and finance, employment and labour, technology and debt recovery. We have advised clients in various sectors including banking & financial services, technology, tourism, manufacturing, energy and construction.

I Construction Projects

Africa's rapid economic growth is accelerating despite the continent's significant infrastructure deficit — with the largest deficits being in roads and power. Over the next decade, construction projects related to infrastructure, energy and natural resources will be key areas of focus and development.

Our team provides holistic turnkey solutions when advising on all aspects of the project life cycle in various capacities, including advising clients procuring construction services directly, project developers, contractors and complementary service providers. In our experience, the most critical facet of project development, aside from technical and financial feasibility, is risk management.

We advise on all construction-related matters, including advice on procurement strategies, contract documentation (NEC, FIDIC, JBCC, GCC, IChemE and JCT) and dispute management. We also help clients engage with regulators under applicable legislation.

We provide support in managing and administering claims, as well as working with our clients to ensure that areas of possible dispute are minimised and, where they do emerge, are resolved as quickly and efficiently as possible to mitigate financial and reputational loss.

J Tax

In a complex, highly regulated space with active enforcement and vigilant authorities, it is essential to have a trusted adviser with in-depth knowledge and commercial insight.

Our team has a comprehensive understanding of Kenyan tax laws. We handle contentious tax matters and advisory work. We focus on both domestic and international tax, value-added tax, income tax, capital gains tax, transfer pricing, digital services tax, corporation tax, general tax planning and litigation. We also advise on the tax implications of various business structures and transactions.

K Economic Crimes

Our lawyers have been engaged by financial institutions to oversee successful prosecutions of fraudsters. We have also advised and assisted our clients in complying with anti-money laundering and countering terrorism financing laws.

Similarly, we have successfully represented local and international clients in recovering and unlocking funds illegally restricted by unscrupulous financial institutions and government agencies.

L Public Interest Litigation

Our lawyers have been involved in precedent-setting constitutional matters with public interest.

We do not shy away from challenging administrative processes, decisions of tribunals, actions of financial institutions, and other constitutional and human rights violations.

M Capital Markets

Clients choose us to navigate the complexities of evolving markets. Kenya's large and increasing population, as well as the size of its economy, offers limitless growth opportunities for capital markets.

We advise clients on a broad spectrum of capital market transactions and processes, including the formalities of setting up various investment vehicles, corporate restructurings, schemes of arrangement and reconstruction, derivatives, stock exchange listings, collective investment schemes, IPOs, global depository receipts (GDRs) and public offers of debt and equity.

We assist our clients in navigating the complexities and regulatory requirements of the evolving markets, as well as offering legal advice on the myriad issues surrounding the markets. We think ahead and analyse the industries in which our clients operate, and investigate issues before they become complications. We embrace our clients' cutting-edge goals and visions.

N Public Procurement

We assist clients through every stage of the public procurement process. Successful local and foreign investments hinge on obtaining a legal and valid interest in a target entity through compliance with Kenyan laws and regulations, including public procurement law. We provide guidance through every step of the process to ensure that our clients achieve their ultimate investment objectives.

Kenya is notable among sub-Saharan African countries for being open to foreign investment in virtually all major sectors, including agriculture, oil and gas, mining, energy, media & telecommunications, and tourism. Moreover, the Kenyan Government is engaged in a comprehensive privatisation programme to increase viability and efficiency, and to fund socio-economic projects.

O Legal Audits & Regulatory Compliance

A single employee's misguided action can erase years of an organisation's accumulated value. Employees and other officers, many of whom believed they were acting in the best interests of their organisations, have created a host of legal, operational, financial and ethical issues for companies.

We assist clients in managing, identifying and prioritising their legal, compliance and fraud risks in practical and effective ways. We work collaboratively with the organisation or business to design, implement and assess programmes to prevent, detect, remediate and mitigate violations of the law or regulations, as well as misconduct that may cost the organisation money. These are not isolated programmes; rather, we integrate them within the organisation's framework of governance, risk and compliance. The effectiveness of an organisation's compliance programme is a key factor in regulators' and prosecutors' decisions to bring civil or criminal enforcement actions, as well as in the severity of a civil penalty or a criminal sentence.

We help clients design, implement and test effective and practical compliance programmes that meet the requirements of Kenyan and international standards.

P Debt Recovery

We assist our clients to minimise exposure on their bad and doubtful debts. Debt recovery is a key area for all businesses. In view of the constraints in the Kenyan court system, we have set up a debt recovery unit which supplements and complements our court action against debtors. From our experience, a sizeable number of debtors respond positively if sufficient pressure is put on them.

Whereas many companies use debt collection agencies, it has been our experience that debtors respond effectively to legal action when faced with the imminent threat of litigation, insolvency or liquidation. A legal demand tends to have a more immediate and positive effect than other channels of collection. Over and above the need to employ legal channels in pursuing our clients' debtors, of great importance is our appreciation of the fact that our clients would in many instances seek to maintain business relations even as they pursue their debts. For this reason, we always endeavour to preserve relations for the continuity of our clients' businesses.

Our debt recovery team makes every effort to trace debtors and identify their assets, as well as to establish their financial standing. This information also ensures that "hopeless" debts are identified and either written off at an early stage, where possible, or pursued with financial caution — thus saving the client legal costs that may be incurred in the court process without the possibility of being recouped. We also prefer holding discussions with our clients before embarking on a debt collection exercise, so as to determine the actual modalities that a client will find suitable for its various categories of debtors. Once funds are collected, we deliver the monies to our clients within twenty-four (24) hours of receiving cleared funds.
